General Information:

Hendrickson Method Institute offers an intensive program in advanced manual therapy for body workers and health care professionals. Our certification training consists of 6, 4-day modules. Three modules are held per academic year, with the full course spanning a twenty-four month period. Students of all levels attend class together. Successful completion of the Practitioner Level 1 classes is required for enrollment in the corresponding Practitioner Level 2 training. All classes are held at Rudramandir Yoga Center, located at 830 Bancroft Way in Berkeley, California and use the text Massage and Manual Therapy for Orthopedic Conditions (LWW, 2009), by Dr. Thomas Hendrickson. The instructional DVD, Massage and Manual Therapy with Dr. Tom Hendrickson, is strongly recommended as an accompaniment to the textbook.

Students seeking self-paced Hendrickson Method certification or taking classes on an experiential basis may sign-up for individual modules. Each module is a 4-day class. Module students attend class with Practitioner Level 1 & 2 students. Students who are taking classes for continuing education purposes only (versus Hendrickson Method certification) are not required to take quizzes or document practice sessions. The first module, Manual Therapy for the Spine, is required prior to taking additional modules. Students must complete Practitioner level 1 modules before signing up for the corresponding Practitioner Level 2 modules.

Inbar Sarig will teach all Hendrickson Method Institute classes during the 2017-2018 academic year.
